Drug Free Target Zones to Be Established in Millbury

This is the first in a series of articles that will focus on local efforts to increase awareness of the dangers involved in drug and alcohol abuse and the steps that our communities are taking to deal with these problems. Subsequent articles will also focus on programs which are designed to provide young people with opportunities for drug and alcohol-free activities. Our readers are encouraged to call the CHRONICLE at 865-1645 if they would like to have a particular program highlighted.

MILLBURY - The Millbury Police and School Departments have joined forces to implement a recommendation from the Governor's Alliance Against Drugs to establish "Drug Free Target Zones" in Massachusetts communities. Accordance to the Alliance, the program is designed "to create a drug-free environment in the playgrounds, at the bus stops, on the routes to and from schools, so that youngsters don't have to run the gauntlet of drug dealers and drug users while they're trying to get a quality education."

On May 2, a meeting was held at Millbury High School to establish the zones in the Town of Millbury and to discuss issues related to increasing the community's awareness of efforts being made to deal with drug related concerns.

The meeting was chaired by Superintendent of Schools Dr. Alfred A. Sylvia. In attendance were Police Chief Ron Stokowski, Assistant District Attorney William Butler, MHS Principal Daniel Carmody, Middle School Principal Frank Rogers, Elmwood Principal Kelton Johnson, Safety Officer Fred Vulter, staff members, parents, and students.

Sylvia told the gathering that in order for the project to be successful, it must involve a wide representation of people. "It does not only involve educators," he said, "but it should involve community leaders, the police, and other agencies such as the District Attorney's office, parents, and students."

Sylvia also said that the Millbury schools have worked very hard with the school department to prevent drug sales and drug use in the schools. "I don't think the Millbury schools have a drug problem," Sylvia said. "There might be drugs that are going on outside the schools, but as far as I can ascertain from reports we receive, their are very few cases, if any at all, of drug use within the school environment."

Sylvia continually stressed the need for cooperation in implementing the program and in dealing with drug related issues in general. He also praised the efforts of the Millbury Police Department: "I can't say enough good things about Chief Stokowski and his cooperation, and that of Officer Vulter. They will try to do things to assist us outside the building and we will do things within the building. But the police and school department cannot do that alone," he told the gathering, "they need your assistance; your cooperation. We want the public to be aware that we are indeed serious about having drug people prosecuted and seeing that we have schools and areas around the schools that are drug free."

Stokowski then gave his recommendations for the posting of the signs, which will be located in areas from the Middle School to the center of town to the high school, because these are the primary avenues people will take to and from school on a daily basis. Stokowski also said that he was recommending that the parks be targeted because, "that's where our youth play on a daily basis."

Stokowski stressed that the establishment of drug free target zones does not mean that other areas of town will be neglected. "Under no circumstances does the Town of

Power Outage Affects Centerview Apartments

By A.A. Belisle

MILLBURY - Two residents of Centerview Apartments were inside the building's only elevator on Sunday when portions of the building lost power. According to Irene Sullivan, Executive Director of the Millbury Housing Authority, after spending some 20 to 30 minutes inside, the two residents were freed by an elevator company employee. Some elderly residents on upper floors of the four story building, because of health conditions, were unable to gain access to the first floor with the elevator out of commission.

Ronald Racine, a Massachusetts Electric Company spokesperson, attributed the power outage to an equipment failure on one of the poles outside the Elm Street police station. The power loss occurred at 11:40 a.m., and power was restored at 12:50 p.m. In addition to the Centerview Apartments, residents along South Main Street also lost power.

While emergency lighting was activated in the ground level, first, second, and fourth floor hallways at Centerview during the power outage, no lights at all were observed on the third floor. When questioned about the third floor emergency lighting on Monday, Sullivan said, "I have no idea (why the lights weren't working) because they're working now, and we've checked them. I went through this morning and checked them, and there's only one of them that looks like the battery could be run down on that particular one. But we went through and checked them all, as we do periodically anyway, and for some reason they were not on. But they are on this morning."

Sullivan summed up the situation by saying, "I suppose it's like anything else. You put a light switch on today, and the light works, and tomorrow it doesn't."

Thank You....

The soft spring rain which gently falls is absorbed by the earth. This action results in a bursting forth of greenery and much beauty. So it is with the tears we shed at the passing of our loved one. The comfort of relatives and friends transformed this time of sorrow, and the beautiful memory of our beloved George is ever present. We thank everyone for the support, prayers, cards, flowers, Masses, and kindnesses.
The Family of George P. Gagliardi

Many, many thanks to all who made donations to the Jonathan Lupia Cancer Treatment Fund. Jonathan is now receiving the bone marrow rescue treatment at the Johns Hopkins Oncology Center in Baltimore Maryland. Thanks to all you caring and warm hearted people they were able to start the treatment. However, more is needed. The fund will remain open and anyone willing to make a contribution can do so by making a check payable to The Jonathan Lupia Cancer Treatment Fund, and drop it off or mail to Fidelity Co-operative Bank, 97 Elm Street, Millbury, MA 01527.

First we asked for your donations, now we ask for your prayers. Anyone wishing to send a card to wish Jonathan well can do so by addressing it to: Jonathan Lupia, c/o Johns Hopkins Hospital, Wolfe Street, C.M.S.C. 8E Room 823, Baltimore, Maryland 21205.

Thanks again.
The Lupia and Mitchell Family

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the citizens of Millbury for demonstrating their trust and confidence in me by electing me to the Board of Selectmen.

I am looking forward to my more active role in town government, and pledge to serve to the best of my ability.
Gerald J. Bleau
Selectman

I wish to thank the voters of Millbury who supported my candidacy for Charter Commission, and now look forward to serving you in this capacity. I welcome and encourage your questions, your thoughts, your ideas as we study the forms of local government, of which we eventually must choose one to conduct the varied programs of the town of Millbury.
Robert D. Sullivan
Charter Commission

I would like to thank the voters of Millbury who elected me to the Charter Commission in the April 25 election.

I will continue to work for the town's betterment.
Bob Brainard
Charter Commission

I would like to take this opportunity to sincerely say thank you to everyone who voted for me and supported my candidacy in the recent Town Election.

I will continue to serve the children of Millbury and their educational needs to the best of my ability.
Bruce D. Pease
School Committee

I would like to express my sincerest gratitude to everyone who voted for me in the recent Town election. I will continue to do my utmost in serving the needs of the community and its people.

Millbury Selectmen's Meeting Digest

Adams Honored by Board Members

By Edward J. Cooney

MILLBURY - The Board of Selectmen assembled at the High School on May 2 with the Town Clerk and the Town Meeting Moderator to adjourn the Annual Town Meeting. Moderator Tom Fox call for a motion to adjourn at 7:00 p.m., noting that a quorum did not exist. Selectmen Chairman Jude Cristo moved to adjourn the meeting to June 6 at 7:00 p.m. in the High School Auditorium. The motion carried as Selectmen Roland Lachance, Donald Gauthier, and Cristo voted in favor.

Adams Honored

At 7:15, the Board's regular meeting was called to order at the Town Hall. Prior to conducting the regular weekly meeting, the board presented former Selectman Wynton Adams with a plaque honoring his years of service to the town. Cristo praised Adams for his honesty, integrity, and commitment, and for the unique perspective he brought to the board in its deliberations. "He did his homework; he was a real hard worker," Cristo said. Adams responded, "I am thankful and grateful to the community at large."

Reorganization

The first order of business concerned reorganization of the board, which usually takes place at the first meeting after the Annual Town Election. On a motion by Lachance, action was deferred until the full board is in attendance.

Newly elected member Gerald Bleau was then welcomed and congratulated by board members.

Sycamore Street

Residents of Sycamore Street were present to discuss a proposal to ban parking on the street because of the narrowness of the road. The Safety Officer has recommended "No Parking" signs.

Roger White, of 24 Sycamore Street, asked the board to give some consideration to residents, noting that occasionally he has parked on the street.

Mrs. White suggested that a "Slow Down" sign be erected to alert motorists turning onto Sycamore Street from Rte. 146 as there have been cars speeding in that area.

The board took no action but will review the safety officer's recommendation.

Health Insurance Budget

According to Administrative Assistant Earl Chase, the Health Insurance Budget has been revised downward to $944,000 from the previous proposal of $998,000. The board approved the revised budget on a 4-0 vote.

Cristo asked Chase to form an employee committee to begin plans for next year relative to insurance so recommendations can be developed. He also said that the town was getting its money's worth in consultations and recommendations from its insurance consultant, John Forand.

July 4th Celebration

At 7:35, the board met with Police Chief Ron Stokowski and representatives of the Lion's Club to review and finalize security and safety plans for the upcoming Lions Club July 4th celebration. The discussion centered around the number of police officers needed and how they would be paid.

Stokowski said there would be a need for 15 police officers on the nights of the fireworks. He noted that, after an hour of discussions with the Lions Club, it was established that there will be three nights of fireworks this year. Cristo asked whether the fireworks would be scaled back next year to two nights. Stokowski replied "Yes." He also said that temporary "No Parking" signs would be set up to avoid streets being "plugged." He identified the streets as Canal, Hamilton, part of Howe Avenue, and Maple Street.

Stokowski also said that it is difficult to get early commitments from other police departments for an event that will occur in July. He suggested that seven police officers from other towns under the mutual aid agreement be made Special Police.

Cristo said it was questionable whether there was sufficient money in the budget to cover expenses for the police officers. He noted that each officer would work a minimum of three hours each night at time and a half, which would amount to approximately $1100-$1200.

A question of liability was raised for those police officers from other towns. Stokowski replied that, in the past, the town that sends the officer holds the liability.

Lions Club President George Kane reported that the Club holds a million dollar policy for liability. It was also noted that a sum of $1,000 may still be available from the 175th Anniversary Celebration Article.

The board's secretary/clerk, Debbie Plante, said that monies were still coming in from receipts of souvenirs sold during the anniversary celebration.

Lachance moved that the board take up the problem of where the money will come from and give the Lions Club a vote of confidence. The motion was approved on a 4-0 vote.

Grant Application

Chase asked Cristo to sign a grant application, written up by Town Planner Dave Hulseberg, for descending funding over a 3 year period for a full time building inspector's position. Cristo signed the grant as the board voted approval at a previous meeting.

Proposition 2 1/2

Cristo then introduced Jane H. Malme, Chief of the Bureau of Local Assessment, who gave a presentation on changes that have occurred since Proposition 2 1/2 went into effect. Town officials present included members of the Finance Committee, the Board of Assessors, the Tax Collector, Town Auditor, Treasurer, and Personnel Board members.

In her presentation, Malme highlighted the fact that the major source of revenue is the property tax, with state aid being decreased. She cautioned that communities should not expect more as the budget presently in the senate would give less aid. "We have been told not to issue Cherry Sheet information," she said. "The Senate will take its time. We may not know until the end of this fiscal year. It's distressing, but that's what the facts are. The latest revenue figures are down, down, down," she said.

Malme pointed out that other sources of revenue need to be looked at. She said that fees, charges, and taxes are a very low source of revenue, but noted that towns have raised fees and charges to pay for the cost of those services. Other local sources of revenue, she said, are through Available Funds, Stabilization, and Free Cash Accounts. The remainder of the presentation was a brief review of Proposition 2 1/2 booklets that were distributed to those in attendance.

Following Malme's presentation, Steve Duchman, of the Division of Local Services, reviewed the fiscal facts pertaining to the Town of Millbury. He reviewed charts showing revenue by sources for the Town since 1981, noting that state aid increased during those years as reliance on property taxes decreased. Total revenues for the town since 1981 have increased 5% with a dollar value of $14,555,969 in 1989 as compared to $9,681,662 in 1981.

According to Duchman, in 1981 Millbury's tax levy made up 47.8% of revenue sources; state aid was 33%, local receipts 6.3%, all other 12.9%. In FY 89, the tax levy is 40.6% of total revenue, state aid is 36.4%, local receipts 5.9%, and all others 17.2%.

Following Duchman, Kathy Reed presented a brief overview of revenue related factors dealing with available certified Free Cash during the years 1981-1988. She noted that Free Cash cannot be more than 10% of the equalized value of property. According to Reed, most towns use free cash to reduce the tax rate, which has been the practice in Millbury.

Following the presentation, the board moved to Executive Session for the purpose of collective bargaining discussions.

Old Business

Upon returning an hour later, the board moved though Old Business agenda items. Under Appointments, the board was informed by Chase that John Powers has indicated he will not be seeking reappointment to the Zoning Board of Appeals.

The board was given a list of appointments for annual review. A list of appointments for Special Police from the Town of Sutton under Mutual Aid was sent to Stokowski for his recommendation.

Resource Recovery

Under Resource Recovery, Cristo made reference to glowing reports in a newspaper article on the operation of the Wheelabrator Resource Recovery Facility on Rte. 20. He asked Chase if there was any more information on unacceptable tonnage being delivered to the plant. Chase replied, "No."

It was noted by Chase and Cristo that some materials brought to the facility were causing problems such as cloud dusting and high sulfur content. Gauthier asked if a meeting had been set with Mill Tex, a local facility, concerning the matter. He said it was his understanding that the board was to meet with company officials to discuss the situation. Mill Tex is located on Lincoln Avenue Extension.

Lachance then noted that a statement made by Tom Cusson of the DEQE in the newspaper account indicated that many controls in place at the plant were from regulators. He said it should have said that the controls were suggested and came about by citizen and community input.

Transfer Station

Chase reported that he and

Friendly Visitors for Elders

MILLBURY - The Millbury Council on Aging Volunteer Program has caring and concerned persons who are waiting to become your Friendly Visitors. These individuals will visit you for one hour a week and give you something to look forward to. If you are an elder who is a bit lonely and doesn't get around much any more, you may be happier after you have made the acquaintance of a Friendly Visitor.

If you are interested in this program, call the Millbury Senior Center at 865-9154 and ask for Judith.

Assumption School P.T.G.

MILLBURY - The Assumption School P.T.G. will hold a "Spring Sale" on Saturday, May 20, from 10-2 in the Church Hall. Featured will be children's used books, games, and a plant sale.

DAR To Meet

SUTTON - The General Rufus Putnam Chapter of the DAR will meet on Thursday, May 18, at the Wayside Inn, Sudbury. The luncheon will be at noon in the Ford Room. Mrs. Paul Walker will be the speaker, and her topic will be "The Role of Women in Pilgrim Society."

Elderly Home Care

BOSTON - Rep. Paul Kollios (D-Millbury) inserted two amendments to the House budget and Supplemental budget which will help the state's Elder Home Care Program receive more federal dollars. According to Kollios, "The Home Care Program is the primary means we have to help frail elders stay at home and avoid going to nursing homes."

The program helps sick and frail elders by providing a homemaker for a few hours a week to help with activities such as cleaning, shopping, cooking, and bathing. "The recent fiscal problems," Kollios said, "have hit the home care program hard. We're hearing every day about heart-breaking situations of very frail elders, some taking care of sick spouses as well, being denied their few hours of assistance because there simply isn't enough money."

Budget language won by Kollios in both next year's budget and this year's "supplemental" budget will allow the Executive Office of Elder Affairs, which funds the Home Care Program, to seek and keep approximately $6 million in additional federal funds. "Six million dollars would go a long way toward helping frail elders live safely and with dignity," Kollios said.

May Potpourri Fair

MILLBURY - The Women's Fellowship of the Millbury Federated Church will hold its annual May Potpourri Fair and Plant Sale on Saturday, May 20, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on the church lawn at 20 Main Street.

In addition to plants for Memorial Day and gardens, there will be jewelry, food, candy, used items, handmade and craft items. A snack bar will also be available.

Co-chairwomen are Audrey Mogren and Florence Powers.

Sutton Youngsters "Lap the Church for the Homeless"

SUTTON - On Sunday, May 7, children from the First Congregational Church of Sutton culminated their Church School mission project to help the homeless in Worcester County by holding a "Lap the Church for the Homeless." The children raised money by getting sponsors to pledge an amount for each lap they walked/ran around the church. Monies collected will be given to the "Walk for the Homeless," sponsored by the Worcester committee on Homelessness and Housing, Inc.

During the mission period, mid February to early April, the children raised over $734.00 which they used to purchase sheets, towels, flatware, pots and pans, toothbrushes, alarm clocks, and light bulbs for two Worcester family shelters, Youville House and Friendly House.

Students Travel to Boston

SUTTON - Sutton Junior High School's 8th grade U.S. History Class will travel to Boston to Old South Meeting House this month. At the meeting house, the students will hear the Patriots decide the fate of English tea and Sam Adams give the signal to the Sons of Liberty to head to Boston Harbor and show King George that a tax on tea simply would not do. Included in the presentation will be a trip to the Tea Party Ship, which is anchored at the Congress Street Wharf. The students will be accompanied by their teacher, Stephen Romasco.

CENTERVIEW APARTMENTS: what a beautiful day for the fair. Threatening clouds for a short time - then the sun in all its glory. No excuse for staying in. As usual, the Bake Table sold out early and the other tables were well patronized also. Then came the raffle table at 2:00. The winners were as follows: clothes hamper, Rose Haley; 16 piece cookware, Irene Robitaille; two pictures, Ethel Markunas; blanket, Margaret Usher; Conair toaster, Ellen Tellifer; Waring can opener, Doris Murray; Toastmaster, Ethel Markunas; Classes, Lillian Haley; Rival can opener, Dickie Ethier; baby sweater set, Francis Grenier; bottle of liqueur, Francis Grenier; Frangelico liqueur, Kim Ethier; vodka, Gertrude Brown; steak knife set, Ethel Markunas; bank, Ray Pickett; make-up mirror, Ethel Comeau; gift certificate, Ethel Comeau; $10.00, Betty Lewis.

Helme Salois, Chairwoman, on behalf of all the workers and the committee, would like to extend a very sincere thank you to all who helped make this fair a success, whether by donating or patronizing.

Speaking of the weather and possible showers, it takes about five seconds for sound to travel one mile. So, if you see a flash of lightening, count the seconds until you hear the thunder. Two to three seconds, the lightening was about a half-mile away; five seconds, about a mile, and so on....

ST. BRIGID'S WOMEN'S CLUB: the annual meeting and Communion Supper of St. Brigid's Women's Club will be held on Thursday, May 18. Mass will be celebrated at 5:30 p.m. and dinner at the Cocke n' Kettle in Uxbridge will be served at 7:00 p.m. Choice of Menu is Stuffed Boneless Breast of Chicken Supreme ($13.00) or Baked Stuffed Jumbo Shrimp ($16.00). Please make checks out to St. Brigid's Women's Club and give or send to Lillian Sheehan before May 13th!

Entertainment will be provided by Mel Simon, whose topic will be "Reminiscing." Del Carney and Lillian Sheehan are co-chairing the event. They will be assisted by Grace Ekstrom, Margaret Kinniery, Sylvia Silvy, Marie O'Mara, Ann Murphy, and Mae Plante.

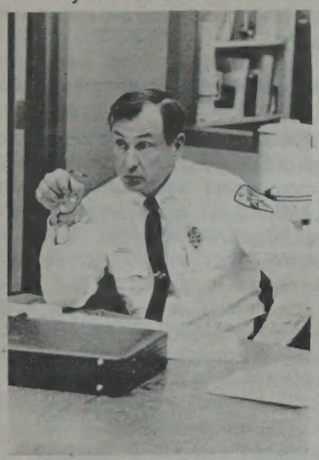
Millbury Police Department relinquish any areas to drug abuse. We're constantly on the alert for them."



Police Chief Ron Stokowski

He also noted that the program does not provide any built-in penalties for those caught dealing or using drugs in the target zone areas. "It's more of an awareness plan," he said. "I don't believe there have been any laws written to up the sentence because you sold in a drug free target zone."

Stokowski suggested that consideration be given to reducing plea bargaining for those convicted of drug related crimes in the target zone areas in addition to recommended sentences as opposed to probationary sentences.

On the topic of a neighborhood crime watch program, Stokowski said the police department is not presently in a position to allocate manpower to such an endeavor. "However," he said, "the citizens of the Town of Millbury on their own could be more alert, more aware of what's going on around them and feel free to call us up or call our drug free hotline at the Middle District Drug Task Force. We need to get away from our busy, busy schedules. When we have some free moments, keep our eyes open, make those calls."

In discussing the cooperation between the police and school departments, Stokowski said, "I don't come in here and tell them what to do. If I come in and start objecting to a lot of their policies without any knowledge, nobody's going to be a winner. I feel their policies on drug and alcohol are excellent. I'd probably be sterner, but like I said, I don't have to work here every day."

Discussion then turned to a program mentioned by Sylvia called Project D.A.R.E.. Stokowski explained that the program would involve a police officer teaching a class on drug abuse, as part of the curriculum. "The children would get to see the police officer in a different light," he said. "He or she becomes a teacher and can share knowledge of what to do and what not to do." Stokowski also noted that the D.A.R.E. program would have to be ongoing. "You have to commit a body to it, so it costs money," he added.

The meeting then focused on programs currently in place throughout the school system to deal with drug and alcohol abuse. "Over the years," High School Principal Daniel Carmody said, "we've done a number of good things to educate our young people about drug and alcohol abuse. We have a strong drug and alcohol policy and have implemented it to the fullest. We have had very few drug problems in the schools."

Staff members in attendance discussed programs and methods in place in the school system that deal with drug and alcohol related issues. Among them: S.A.D.D. (Students Against Driving Drunk), health programs, assembly programs,

The oil boiler it pays to buy.

The Weil-McLain 68 high-efficiency oil boiler can pay for itself in a few short years with the money it saves by using less oil. The 68 operates at over 84% efficiency, compared to only 60% efficiency for an old, inefficient oil boiler. That means the 68 uses far less oil to produce the same amount of heat. And the 68 oil boiler will provide uniform comfort, wall to wall, floor to ceiling, regardless of outside temperature.

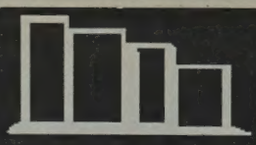
CONGRATULATIONS!
SALES PERSON OF THE MONTH!



On The Shelf

By Rosemary Waltos

You've spent the winter planning for holiday celebrations, cooking for crowds, reading fireside, and daydreaming about the Florida sunshine. Now, with the warm weather signalling redecorating and remodeling projects, it's time to check out the information that you'll find at the Millbury Public Library to help you complete your redecorating and remodeling projects. You'll find home repair and remodeling books in the 600 Section of the library.

During the summer heat, the world is divided into the "haves" and "have nots." The haves are people with pools; the have nots are those who do not have pools. For the haves, it's time to get ready for the have nots' visit with WHAT COLOR IS YOUR SWIMMING POOL? This is a guide to trouble-free pool maintenance by John O'Keefe. The have nots can check out our SWIMMING POOLS. This guide helps you plan, purchase, landscape and maintain your new or existing swimming pool.

Create the effect you want around your pool or patio with outdoor furniture. HOW TO MAKE 2X4 FURNITURE FOR INDOORS AND OUTDOORS explains how to create this easy to make furniture. THE BACKYARD BUILDING provides plans for over 150 build-it-yourself projects. An example of some of the projects included here are: garden benches using wood and wrought iron, greenhouses, cold frames, and all types of trellises, firewood storage bins and racks, and garden carts.

Windows, and lots of them, are featured in all the decorating books these days. Sunset WINDOWS AND SKYLIGHTS provides design ideas along with instruction on installation and repairs. MAKE YOUR OWN HANDCRAFTED DOORS AND WINDOWS by John Birchard will help you to create a unique look in your house from the inside and out. SUN SPACES by John H. Mauldin covers home additions for year-round natural living. Information here includes design and location of add-ons as well as construction details from excavation and foundation work to framing, glazing, sealing, hot air storage, and venting.

Decks are also hot remodeling projects featured in all the do-it-yourself magazines. No more are they just five by nine platforms made of wood planks. Now, they are multi-level outdoor spaces with everything short of a water fountain built into them. For your deck building plans, check out our DECK PLANS, an imaginative guide to building a deck. This book includes plans for more than twelve decks that you can build yourself. In our video collection, you can take out DECKS, a 30-minute step-by-step presentation that contains information on all the design and building elements necessary to complete the project.

Let's turn to more mundane outdoor, warm weather projects like painting your house. THE COMPLETE PAINTER'S HANDBOOK by Gregg E. Sandreuter tells it all on painting your house both indoors and out. Almost every year THE FAMILY HANDYMAN magazine highlights the ins and outs of painting. This year look for the March issue for complete coverage in this area. I also like the book 5000 QUESTIONS ANSWERED ABOUT MAINTAINING, REPAIRING, AND IMPROVING YOUR HOME. The chapters on house painting are informative for both the novice and seasoned painter. KEEPING ITS WORTH by Joseph V. Scaduto will help you with lots of other home repair and maintenance items on your list.

We are always getting new home improvement books describing projects ranging from putting a new roof and siding on your home, to building a stone wall to enhance the looks of your property. One of the most popular types of books in the home improvement area deals with kitchen remodeling. MAKING KITCHEN CABINETS by Paul Lavine and REMODELING AND REPAIRING KITCHEN CABINETS by Sam Allen helps you tackle one of the biggest elements of any kitchen remodeling job. In addition to these two books, there's also the video MAKING KITCHEN CABINETS WITH PAUL LEVINE, located in our video collection. This 60-minute presentation shows you how to laminate plastic to wood, cut tongue-and-groove joints, rout dovetails, and install drawer slides.

The last book I want to mention here is THE COMPLETE ILLUSTRATED GUIDE TO EVERYTHING SOLD IN HARDWARE STORES. This is for anyone who has even wandered around a hardware store in search of the best "thingamajig" to complete their current home improvement job. You'll find over 500 detailed illustrations that include such items as a window zipper, offset screwdrivers, an expansion shield, and chevron.

Board Upholds Suspension Ruling

By Edward J. Cooney

MILLBURY - Chairman Chet Hanratty called the May 3 School Committee meeting to order with members Jane Pojani, Bruce Pease, and newly-elected member Alan Marble in attendance.

Reorganization

Hanratty called for the re-organization of the committee. Superintendent Dr. Alfred Sylvia asked for names for nomination as Chairman. Pease placed Hanratty's name in nomination, Pojani seconded the motion, which was approved.

Pease then placed committee member Ed Wilczynski's name in nomination for vice-chairman and secretary. Hanratty ruled that the nomination could not be accepted as Wilczynski was not present to either accept or reject the nomination.

Marble then placed Pease's name in nomination, which was seconded by Pojani and approved.

Minutes

Hanratty requested approval of regular minutes for the April 5th meeting. Ron Stead requested that the minutes reflect that during the appeal of his daughter's suspension it was stated four times that there was no complaint against the teacher involved. Hanratty said he recalled that, and asked for approval with Stead's correction to be added. The committee approved on a 3-0-1 vote with Marble abstaining as he was not elected at the time.

Executive minutes were also approved for April 5th on a 3-0-1 vote with Marble abstaining.

Executive Session minutes for bargaining which took place on April 11 were also approved on a 3-0-1 vote. At that meeting, the 3 year contract was signed and finalized by teachers and school committee representatives. Teachers were granted a 5.95% raise the 1st year, 5.95% the second year, and 6.2% the 3rd year of the contract.

Budget hearing minutes for April 12 were also approved on a 2-0-2 vote, with Marble and Pease abstaining.

Writing Policy

Sylvia reported that the system-wide Writing Policy was up for a 3rd and final reading. Marble suggested that under "cursive writing," the word "mandate" be used in place of the word "encourage."

Both Sylvia and Curriculum Coordinator Dr. David Troughton explained that some students lack motor control. Troughton also said that word processing is used more and more for final papers.

Marble then brought up the use of Collins Writing Folders, suggesting that their use may be costly. Sylvia replied, "I would think not. They will develop uniformity with corrections."

Troughton said the folders are collected on each student's written work samples and are carried on from grade to grade. "Folders could also be developed by teachers as well," Troughton said.

The 3rd and final reading was approved on a 4-0 vote.

Stead Suspension

At 7:45, Wendy Stead and her parents met with the school committee to ask for reconsideration of a vote taken on April 5 to uphold the principal's ruling that Wendy had been truant and would have to serve a one day, in-house suspension. Also in attendance were 12-15 of Wendy's classmates.

At the April 5 meeting, Ron Stead explained that his daughter had made arrangements with a teacher to take a two period, two part test before traveling to Washington to visit George Washington University. Stead had said the teacher was agreeable and was to give both sections of the test on a Thursday. At the April 5 meeting, Stead said that the teacher had forgotten the second section so his daughter was unable to take the second part on Thursday. As a result, the second part was to be taken on the following Monday. With her parents' permission, Wendy stayed home on Monday morning to study for the test. She went in late to school, signed in, and notified the attendance secretary that she had stayed home to study. She was later called down to the office and notified she would be suspended per handbook regulations.

At this evening's meeting, Ron Stead said that after further study and help from Dr. Sylvia and Assistant Principal Charles Capparelli, he was acquiring a better understanding of the Student Handbook. He noted that Sylvia also supplied him with a letter from the teacher involved in the dispute, who requested anonymity.

The letter read, in part, "Pertaining to the sequence of events involving Wendy Stead and the...exam (part 2) on Thursday, March 30, the following is to the best of my recollection.

(1) Early during the week of March 27th, Wendy asked permission to take the second part of the...Final on Thursday, March 30th, following the completion of Part I.

(2) Thursday, March 30th during 1st period, Wendy took Part 1 along with the rest of the class. She worked into 2nd period (9:00 a.m.) on the essay part, being the last to finish.

(3) Handing me the exam, Wendy asked for the second part (a more detailed, matching fill-in test.) Only then did I realize that she wanted to take both sections together. I told Wendy that I had forgotten about her request, but that I did have last year's exam that was similar to the material covered in her class and that she could conceivably take that. However, of more concern to me was the little time left in the second period. I questioned the wisdom of Wendy taking this test when only 25-30 minutes (at most) remained. Realizing the limited amount of time left, Wendy agreed with me that it would be better to wait until Monday to complete Part II. At that time Wendy arranged to take the test 5th and 6th periods. (Her choice of periods on Monday, April 3rd.)

Stead asked for permission to restate the case, saying that the situation had to be looked at in three parts. He said an agreement was made to take the 2nd part of the test on Thursday, March 30. "That was agreement #2," he said. He went on to say that Wendy asked to stay after school to take the test. "The reply was that it was not possible. Agreement #2 was not consummated," he said.

Agreement #3, according to Stead, was the offer to take last year's exam, "but the time left to do the 2nd part was a problem," Stead said. "Wendy agreed to take last year's exam."

"The representative of the school made or offered these agreements," Stead continued, "and I am not making a complaint against that representative. The failure of the school to follow through on the agreement made us, as a family, make the decision we did."

Agreement #4, according to Stead, was to take the test on Monday, which was agreed to by Wendy and the teacher. "The question I have," Stead said, "is what choice did Wendy have?"

Stead then said the second area he would like to discuss was the appeal process. "I was not familiar with the handbook and how the school operates," he said. "I think an appeal requires a rethinking. If not, then you really don't have an appeal."

Stead said he didn't think Sylvia had given him an appeal. "His (Sylvia's) statement to me was, 'I don't ever overrule administrators.' When Wendy went to him (Sylvia) he stated he would not get involved. I think the effect is, we were denied re-thinking and a real appeal. When dealing with the educational leader of the school system I should get better than 'I would never overrule my administrators,' or 'I will not get involved.' We were denied our due process rights," Stead said.

Stead then said he wanted to pursue a third area of concern dealing with the school's policy on truancy. He asked for use of the blackboard and wrote scenarios showing that if Wendy had stayed out of school for the whole day, she would not have received a suspension. "But," Stead said, "for staying home for four periods to study for the test, she received a suspension. Is this a fair system?" he asked.

Sylvia explained that the truancy policy was developed at the high school by the administration and staff. "I, as superintendent," he said, "had nothing to do with it. I don't ever remember saying I don't overrule administrators."

Assistant Principal Capparelli was then asked by Stead if he could recall Sylvia making that statement. Capparelli replied that he could not remember. Stead in turn asked his daughter if she recalled that statement, and she replied in the affirmative.

Sylvia then said that Capparelli and Principal Carmody are responsible for discipline at the high school. Capparelli said he considered the discussion of truancy as related to this situation as getting into semantics.

Stead referred to Page 48 in the handbook, noting that the word "truancy" refers to unexcused absences. A discussion then ensued between Stead and Capparelli on the definition of truancy as spelled out in the handbook. Capparelli noted the different situations that occur in absences from school such as whether a parent had knowledge and consent of absences or whether a student was absent without parental knowledge. He also noted that students under 16 are taken to juvenile court after two episodes of truancy.

Mrs. Stead then noted that students who take a week off with parental consent to go to Disneyland receive no punishment.

Scott Pease, one of 12-15 students in attendance, told the committee that he was once absent for three periods in order to have his senior class pictures taken. He said he received only a citation for being late. Capparelli said he was not familiar with the incident. Pease went on to say that there have been other incidences of athletes sleeping in late after a game or resting in preparation for a game and coming in late. He also cited instances of students who have had term papers due on a specific day and period who stayed home in the morning and came in late to pass the papers in on time.

Committeeman Alan Marble then remarked that it appears the policy is not widely known. "It doesn't seem to be fair," he said. "Parents have a right to keep their children out for good reasons. It is a matter of a lack of common sense on the part of the administration. I cannot in good conscience support your (administrations') decision," he said.

Bruce Pease said there was a need to clarify "citations" versus "disciplines" in the handbook.

Pojani agreed with Pease: "The book needs clarifying," she said. "Wendy was wrong in staying out. Unfortunately, rules are not clarified. I am staying with the decision of the administration."

Former School Committeeman Alan Tuttle asked to speak to the issue, which was first discussed at his last meeting as a committee member. Tuttle said the policy was flawed. "It is no one's fault. If it is flawed, students should not be penalized."

A motion not to suspend Wendy, because of a flawed policy, was defeated on a 2-2 vote because of the lack of a majority.

Resignations and Leaves

Under Resignations and Leaves, Sylvia read a letter from Charlotte Hanks to Rocco Bruno announcing her resignation as a music teacher. Hanks has been employed for the past year and taught at the Middle School. The committee accepted her resignation on a 4-0 vote.

Appointments

Under appointments, the board approved the hiring of Neal Roberts as a part time maintenance and groundskeeper at Windle Field. According to Business Manager Suzanne Pierce, Roberts will work 20-40 hours, now through Columbus Day.

Sleep Over

The committee approved a request by faculty members at the Shaw Middle School to provide a sleep over at the school on May 19. Faculty members will provide supervision of students. The sleep over will involve students reading under the supervision of Mrs. Swenson. The committee approved on a 4-0 vote.

Entrance Age Requirements

Sylvia reported on a legal opinion he received from the State Department of Education's Legal Services Department that indicates that the school committee has the flexibility to set the entrance age requirement for grade 1 as long as it isn't below the minimum or above the maximum age as set by law.

According to the letter: "The Millbury School Committee is within the parameters of the regulations to establish its own age of entrance to Grade one. Since the Board regulations do not require a child to enter grade one in September of the calendar year in which he or she attains the age of six, Millbury's policy of restricting entrance to grade one to children who have attained the age of six on or before September 1st is not illegal nor is it inconsistent with the board's regulation governing entrance to kindergarten and first grade.

However," the letter continued, "the policy should address the fact that children who attain the age of six between September 2nd and December 31st are required by law to attend school."

Geography Courses

Pojani requested that discussions begin at the next meeting on implementing more geography courses by the 1990 school year.

Discipline Policy

Hanratty told Sylvia that he has a major concern with aspects of the discipline policy and asked him to have Capparelli take a look at the policy and make recommendations before the end of this school year.

"The Truth about Drugs," a very effective lecture, was presented to the students in Grades 1-8 by Bob Wiggins of Narconon, an agency specializing in drug education and rehabilitation programs.

Mr. Wiggins captivated the audience with his humor. They learned the physical effects and accumulation of drugs in the body and how they affect the mind, the memory, and how this relates to study and education.

Flea Market

MILLBURY - Millbury Baptist Church will hold its annual Flea Market on Saturday, May 20, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., rain or shine. Featured will be plants, crafts, baked goods, a snack bar, and all sorts of treasures to browse through.

Weather permitting, the general public may buy space outside the church for their own tables. To do so, contact Deborah Campbell at 831-4352 during the day or 865-2206 after 6 p.m.

SELECTMEN

Lachance had attended a meeting at the Transfer Station site on Riverlin Street recently to observe work completed. He said that a problem with ledge has developed.

Lachance said the area involved near the truck turn around was loaded with huge boulders. Chase said the contractor doesn't want to blast because of the building's foundation.

SEA Engineering will be negotiating a price, which could approximate an additional $30,000 from the contingency fund.

Another complication that has developed is a leachate problem at the present landfill which, according to Chase, is sizeable. "They are going to have to channel it. SEA will be taking the matter up with the DEQE," he said.

A discussion was held on a request for payment by the contractor for $177,000. Bleau questioned what the payment was for. "I've never seen a voucher come though like this," he said. Bleau said he wanted to review the voucher with the building committee, saying he was concerned with procedures which could leave the board wide open. "I don't doubt the work is being done," he said.

Cristo told Bleau that the Building Committee opted to allow the Board of Selectmen to vote on approval of payments.

Millbury Ave. Reconstruction Project

Chase then reported that Bayside Engineering, consultants for the Millbury Avenue Reconstruction Project, are requesting an additional payment of $3,276.16 for added expenses for the rebidding process. He noted that the board has already voted to allocate $5,000 for added expenses.

In addition to the contract amendments, there is an addition of on site inspections, as needed, with an 8 hour weekly minimum. They are proposing an additional $30,000.

Cristo suggested that the board defer any discussion and action until Board member John Donnelly is present.

Water Study Committee

Lachance moved to give the Water Study Committee authority to approach Massachusetts American Water Company for discussions on an asking price. He noted that the vote would not be authorizing negotiations. The board approved the motion on a 4-0 vote.

Youth Commission

Chase informed the board that Linda Johnson has been hired by the Youth Commission to serve as Director of Youth Activities. Chase will be her daily supervisor. Chase said it was expected Johnson would be putting more hours in in the beginning to get the program off the ground. Johnson was hired on a salary basis for 19 hours per week, with no additional benefits.

Chase reported that $3,400 in the Municipal Operations budget could be dropped due to the School Committee's agreement to help out in caring for outside maintenance at the Center School where the Youth Center will be located.

Gauthier moved to delete the $3,400. Lachance argued for leaving it in as it probably would be needed next year for heat or other maintenance costs.

The board voted 3-1, with Lachance opposed, to reduce the budget by $3,400.

West Millbury Trailer

Lachance then informed Chase that the 90 day limit on a trailer in West Millbury was up and that the building inspector should go up there and get it out. Gauthier noted that a perc test was to be performed and, if it comes out right, they could be allowed to keep the trailer there.

Flashing Light

Chase reported that bids for a flashing light at Grafton and Riverlin Streets would be going out next week.

Article Increase

On a 4-0 vote, the board moved to add $1,500 to the 4th of July celebration article to help defray costs for increased security, as requested by the Chief of Police.

New Business

Under New Business, the board voted 4-0 to:

- approve a request for a drainlayer's license to F&G Sand and Gravel.
- approve a bond to cover the Town Clerk and Town Treasurer.
- hold up a request for a street opening on Herricks Lane, requested by A. Amorello & Sons for a sewerage connection. Both Cristo and Gauthier suggested that Ben Miles be asked to come in to discuss restoring the road as the board has been awaiting paving of the area for some time.
- approve a street opening request on Riverlin Street by Angelo Scola.
- approve a street opening request for Commonwealth Gas on Granite Street.

Fire Engineers

On a motion by Lachance, the board approved the appointments of the following individuals as Fire Engineers: Tom Nault, Dave Matson, John Donnelly, Phil Day, Jr. and Joe Kosiba.

Canal Street Property

A letter was received from Lemieux Co. stating that improvements would be made to property located on Canal Street. Several weeks ago, Donnelly had reflected on the "deterioration" of the exterior of the site.

Illegal Storage Tank

A copy of a letter from Fire Chief Tom Nault to Fred Vulter of 25 Davis Road was read, informing Vulter that a permit had never been filed for the storage of flammable liquid (gasoline) over 150 gallons at that location.

Nault said he was ordering the immediate removal of the illegal storage tank. "An inspection will be held on Friday, May 12, 1989 at 4:00 p.m.," the letter stated. "If a storage tank is still present at that time, warrants will be sought at the Worcester Court House for violation of M.G.L. Chapter 148.

"In addition," the letter continued, "if you still decide to apply for a license to store, the information requested for your permit will also be needed for the license application. Specifically, this is information as listed in my letter to you dated December 12, 1988."

The board completed its business at 11:30 p.m., at which time Lachance moved for adjournment.

Engagement Announced

Congratulations to Sharon Steele on her engagement to Robert A. Magner. Sharon is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Steele of Sutton. Robert is the son of the late Richard A. Magner of Sutton and Betty Kotzen of Millbury. An October wedding is planned.

Rep. Moore Honored by National Guard

HYANNIS - State Representative Richard T. Moore (D-Uxbridge) was honored for distinguished legislative service by the National Guard Association of Massachusetts at their 84th Annual Conference which was held at the Sheraton Hyannis Hotel recently. The Uxbridge lawmaker received a special plaque emblazoned with the Guard's Minuteman trademark.

Moore urged those in attendance to organize an aggressive legislative relations program to lobby Beacon Hill to restore cuts in the Guard's budget or, he said, "like the Old Solider, the Guard in Massachusetts will just fade away."

Moore defended financial support for the Guard in a tight budget period stating that members of the Guard pay more in state taxes from their federal salaries than the entire state budget for the Guard. Guardsmen, he said, paid nearly $5 million in state taxes, and their budget is just over $4 million. He added that support for the National Guard is also a good investment because it insures military preparedness and readiness to meet civil emergencies.

Challenge Group for Widows and Widowers

WORCESTER - A "challenge" group for widows and widowers will meet at the United Congregational Church Hall, 6 Institute Road, on May 12 at 7 p.m. Following the meeting, there will be an installation of officers and a jewelry party. Refreshments will follow. Guests are welcome.

Aging Americans Present New Health Problems

It's a fact that Americans are getting older. The over-65 population has tripled since the beginning of the century and continues to expand. But, with the aging of America comes new problems. The most pressing is how to care for those with illness and disease.

For years, the District Nursing Society has been committed to the health and well-being of the elderly in Millbury, Sutton, and surrounding towns. The District Nursing Society offers nursing and other clinical services in the comfort of an individual's own home, where he or she retains the independence that is so necessary for an older citizen. Also being offered is a new Adult Day Health Care Center located at 450 Colonial Drive in Millbury.

May is "Older Americans Month," and individuals over the age of 60 can find the help they need from the District Nursing Society. Find out about day health and home care from the District Nursing Society. Give us a call at 865-3561.

Science Center Classes

WORCESTER - The following education programs will be offered by the New England Science Center, 222 Harrington Way. As space is limited, reservations are suggested. For further information, or to make a reservation, call 791-9211.

YEAR OF THE SNAKE: Sunday, May 14, from 2-3:30 p.m., ages 9-12. According to the Chinese calendar, this is the year of the snake. In Chinese culture, the snake represents beauty, charm and deep intellectual thought. However, many other cultures view snakes as sinister or frightening. This program explores the truth about these fascinating reptiles. Cost is $14 for members and $16 for non-members.

POND EXPLORATIONS: Sunday, May 21, from 1-3:30 p.m., ages 9-13. Utilizing the natural pond on the grounds of the New England Science Center, young people can discover the amazing array of life that exists above, on, and below the surface of such bodies of water. Frogs, insects, crustaceans, and micro-organisms too small to see without the aid of a magnifier, are some of the creatures explored in this class. The cost is $18 for members and $22 for non-members.

Teacher Appreciation Week

Teachers from the Elmwood Street School, (l-r) Barbara Gillette, Debbie Lacey, and Beverly Hester, enjoy the fruits and pastries of their labors.

MILLBURY - Millbury teachers were honored by the School Connection on May 2 in conjunction with Teacher Appreciation Week. All teachers were presented with a carnation and were invited to the teacher's room for refreshments.

Thank You,Volunteers

Mrs. Stepien's and Mr. Robinson's Home Economics classes presented Millbury School Connection volunteers with a tasteful luncheon on Thursday, May 4, in the high school library. Volunteers were also presented with flowers and a certificate.

Linda Tift, who did an excellent job as coordinator this year, spoke of a second very successful year. Last year, by the end of April, volunteer hours totaled 781. By the end of April this year, volunteer hours had nearly doubled to 1461. There were 74 active volunteers, and Dr. Sylvia, Dr. Troughton, and all school principals thanked every volunteer for their efforts. Dr. Sylvia said, "All contributions are important and very much appreciated by students, staff, and administration."

Elected to serve on next year's board were: Suzanne Gardner, Chairwoman; Kathy Adams, Vice Chairwoman; Jodi Dromgoole, Secretary; and Del Carney, Treasurer. Tribute was paid to Hillary White, who has served as Chairwoman of the Advisory Board for the last two years. She was instrumental in organizing the Millbury School Connection and getting it off to a wonderful start. Sue Gardner said, "Hillary is a very special person, and we were fortunate to have her help through these important beginning years."

Thanks to all!

Commissioner Tours King Farm

SUTTON - State Agriculture Commissioner Gus Schumacher toured William King's farm in Sutton on May 5 at the request of Senator John P. Houston (D-Worcester).

"I knew that when the Commissioner had a first-hand look at the King farm he'd see what an asset it is to the community," Houston said. "It should now be evident that the farm is worthy of inclusion in the Department's Agricultural Preservation Restriction program."

King has applied to the Department of Food and Agriculture's APR program. Under this program, the Department pays the owner the difference between the land's agricultural market value and its value as developed land. In return, the state receives the development rights to the property.

"I appreciate the Commissioner's visit," Houston said. "Commissioner Schumacher had an opportunity to meet Bill King and to encourage Sutton town officials to participate in the APR program, and we had an opportunity to show off a little bit of Sutton."

Sutton Selectmen Mike Chizy and Wally Johnson and Town Administrator Dexter Blois also participated in the tour.

chemical awareness programs, peer teaching, use of audio visual materials, posters, decision making, self-esteem, textbook reading, games, puzzles, and the effects of peer pressure on young people.

Dr. David Troughton, systemwide curriculum coordinator, then reported on funding for some of the programs. "The Governor's Alliance Against Drugs was first put into place in 1986," he explained. "They realized that it was very important to coordinate programs in the schools and that the state would have to provide money to make those programs available."

This past year, according to Troughton, approximately 2.75 million was allocated to the towns through the school departments to fund programs such as those mentioned at the meeting. "Millbury received approximately $4,700 to seed some of the programs," he said. "Some of that money is delegated not just to the public schools but to Assumption School as well. A small mount of money has done tremendous things for Millbury," he added.

Attorney William Butler

Drug Free Target Zone Sign

Sylvia then called attention to a paragraph in the letter from the Governor that stated, 'The creation of the drug-free zones and a workable action plan will be a contributing factor in considering the next round of grant funding from the Committee on Criminal Justice.'

"I don't know how many communities in Central Mass are moving on this program," Sylvia said, "but to my knowledge the only one that's close by is Fitchburg. I'm pleased that Millbury, in cooperation with the Millbury Police Department, has taken a leadership role in establishing drug free target zones. We need to go out and talk to the people that we know so that we can build a stronger program in our community and in our schools that will keep drugs out of our schools and out of our community. That's what this is all about."

Assistant D.A. William Butler told the gathering that he was impressed with the showing of community representation. "We are going to make prosecution of drug dealers a priority," he said. "We will bring your concerns to the District Attorney's attention. There is a need for communication, cooperation, and education."

Butler also cautioned, "Don't ever be complacent about drugs with our children."

The Drug Free Target Zone program may not have the teeth to "take a bite out of crime," but any program that actively pursues a solution to the drug abuse problem is worthy of attention.
